

CLIMB Theatre will visit Minocqua J1 School District to perform plays on the topic of anti-bullying.

CLIMB Theatre is a non-profit touring educational theatre organization. Their mission is to create and perform plays, classes, and other creative works that inspire and propel people—especially young people—toward actions that benefit themselves, each other, and the community. A team of three actors, Nicole Tuttle, Eric Abraham and Alex Hagen will be visiting Minocqua J1 School District to perform plays on the topic of anti bullying. Their interactive shows use theatre to give kids an opportunity to see bullying situations and practice tactics for combating bullying in their school and bystander intervention. They will be performing at the school on October 1st. For more information on the subject please visit www.climb.org or email our outreach supervisor at micheal@climb.org .
